Dear Rosenstiel School of Marine, Atmospheric, and Earth Science Voting Faculty,

As promised, we are moving forward expeditiously and thoughtfully with the search for the new dean of the Rosenstiel School of Marine, Atmospheric, and Earth Science.

A search committee chaired by Leonidas Bachas, Dean of the College of Arts & Sciences, has been convened. In the spirit of keeping you informed, I have asked Dean Bachas to provide you with periodic updates.

We will partner with an executive firm to assist in the search. There will be an initial charge meeting, where the committee will begin developing the job profile. As the committee engages members of the Rosenstiel community, your active participation in providing nominations will be critically important.

For your reference, the search committee membership is listed below:

- Leonidas Bachas, Dean, College of Arts & Sciences, Committee Chair
- Kilan Ashad-Bishop, Assistant Professor, Environmental Science & Policy, Rosenstiel
- Andrew Baker, Professor, Marine Biology & Ecology, Rosenstiel
- Amy Clement, Professor, Atmospheric Sciences, Rosenstiel
- Jaret Davis, Board of Trustees representative
- Adam Holt, Assistant Professor, Marine Geosciences, Rosenstiel
- Igor Kamenkovich, Professor, Ocean Sciences, Rosenstiel
- Guoqing Lin, Professor, Marine Geosciences, Rosenstiel
- Kimberly Pependorf, Associate Professor, Ocean Sciences, Rosenstiel
- Julia Quinn, Board of Trustees representative
- Brian Soden, Professor, Atmospheric Sciences, Rosenstiel
- Geoffrey Supran, Associate Professor, Environmental Science & Policy, Rosenstiel
- Nikki Traylor-Knowles, Associate Professor, Marine Biology & Ecology, Rosenstiel

Please feel free to contact Dean Leonidas Bachas if you have any questions. I look forward to a successful search.

Warm regards,

Guillermo (Willy) Prado, PhD
Interim Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs & Provost
